

Panther Pride

From The Desk Of The Superintendent William Derringer

I would like to thank the Tri-County North Community for supporting the renewal of our existing permanent improvement levy this past November. The funds collected from this levy supports projects that allow us to upgrade and maintain our facilities. This summer we focused on several outdoor projects that have really added to the appearance of our school. Two of these projects were the resealing and restriping of our asphalt parking lots and the replacement of the cracked and broken sidewalks that were in front of our school.

The new sidewalk and main entrance project that we had been working on most of the summer has turned out to be a very nice addition. Each engraved brick in the original sidewalk has been replaced and the new courtyard area with limestone top benches provide plenty of room for our students as they wait on parent pickup. We have plans to offer another engraved brick sale this summer for anyone who would like to purchase a brick with their name on it to be added to the courtyard.

So far it has been a mild winter and we have, once again, made it through the first semester without using any calamity days. As most of you know, we utilize the "One Call" notification system in the event of an emergency, a two-hour delay or a school closing. If you have not provided a phone number for our database or if you experience any other issues or problems with receiving notification, please contact Noelle Warner at the District Office at 937-962-2671 and she can assist with your issue. Our goal is to try to provide you with the best communication possible when these situations occur. We will still place most information on the local TV and radio stations as well for those who have family and friends that may not be in our system. And we will also continue to post closings and delays on our school Facebook page. If you have not yet liked our Facebook page, please do so to get the latest news from TCN.

We hope that you enjoy this newsletter and that it helps to not only inform you of upcoming events, but also that it provides you with a snapshot of some of the wonderful things that are happening here at Tri-County North. I would like to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. As always, I want to thank you for your support! I can be reached at 937-962-2671 if you have any questions, comments, or concerns.

TCN Honors Veterans

On November 11th, TCN honored all Veterans for their service to our country with a Veterans Day Program. The program saluted all branches of the military. The TCN High School Band and 2nd grade class performed in the program. Also participating was the Scout Troop and Pack 511, performing the flag folding ceremony. The Preble County Honor Guard performed the 21 Gun Salute and Ron Duncan and Kyrstin Haney performed Taps to close out the program. A reception to honor the Veterans was held in the cafeteria immediately following the ceremony. It was a spectacular event. Many thanks go out to the program coordinators!

On Thursday, March 2nd, the elementary will be hosting a Family Fun Night. At this event we will be focusing on both math and literacy. To go along with our school theme, Your Passport to Discovery, we will have the Newport Aquarium coming in to do a presentation involving different sea creatures from around the world. This event will be educational and fun. Please mark your calendars to spend the evening with us for a meal and family fun.

Reading is so critical to our children's ability to do well in school for years to come. I want to provide parents, grandparents, and guardians some information on reading. A great foundation of reading can be built at home as well as at school. As students enter kindergarten, they are on different levels of understanding letters, sounds, words, etc. Kindergarten teachers will start with students in their classrooms with as much as five year's difference in reading levels. Some kindergarten students may be able to read and write at the second grade level, while others may not recognize but a few letters and not understand that letters have sounds. This difference in the reading levels has been made up in a large part due to the amount of reading a student has heard prior to entering school and once in school. Students who've been read to 20 minutes a day have working vocabularies of 40,000 words before entering kindergarten. They have heard over 3 million words. Children who've been barely read to or none at all have 10,000 word vocabularies. They've heard just 750,000 words. So if you haven't read to your child prior to entering kindergarten doesn't mean that you failed and are at the point of no return. What this means is it is critically important to start reading to your child to help improve their reading skills no matter from a newborn to 4th grade.

Tips for helping your child improve their reading confidence are: 1) Don't push your child. When reading with your child, don't force him to read. Instead make sure that you are next to each other and he/she is following along with you as you read. Trace your finger along the text as you read. 2) Give him/her privacy. Give them time alone to read without an audience. Respect his/her privacy to read alone. 3) Read to a different audience. Suggest that he/she read to a puppy, younger sibling, or stuffed animal. None of these judge or know if a word was read correctly or not. This helps your child build his/her confidence. A child can build so much confidence by reading to his/her baby brother or sister. Everyone wins! 4) Let your child see you struggle with words. I understand that some parents want to seem infallible, but showing your children that sometimes we have to work hard on a word or two is beneficial too. A parent struggling shows that sounding out words while reading isn't a sign of weakness but a tool to use no matter how good of a reader you are. 5) Don't overcorrect. When your child is reading, do not correct him/her too much. Remember, the goal here is to build confidence. You will have lots of time to work on accuracy and fluency, but take it one step at a time. If your child asks for help with a word go for it, but small mistakes or omissions should be overlooked in the name of confidence for now. The commitment you make now to your child will have a lifelong effect, please take time to read to your child.

Joe Hoelzle

The school year is well underway with the first semester completed. I would like to share a few of my thoughts with you about our school and the great things occurring here. We truly have a lot to be thankful for and proud of.

We have a great staff at Tri-County North. I have been impressed by how caring our staff is for our students. On numerous occasions, I have heard students compliment our teachers', letting me know how much a teacher cares. Through classroom observations, I have seen teachers design engaging lessons and connect with our students. I have also seen teachers working before and after their scheduled hours to help individual students.

Our students are committed and dedicated to improving themselves, this school, and this community. A new club that has started this school year is the Student Leadership Club. Students meet every Friday morning to learn about leadership and develop plans to put their leadership skills into action. As a result of these Friday morning brainstorming sessions, a peer tutoring program has begun where student leaders help other students with their class work every Thursday afternoon. At the middle school level, the VIP (Very Important Panthers) helped serve our community through projects such as visiting nursing homes and organizing a canned food drive.

Pride in our school is also evident through our extra-curricular offerings. I was very impressed with the quality of music and number of student musicians I listened to throughout marching band season and at the Christmas concert. Our coaches are working on improving the athletic skills of our student-athletes. In addition, this spring we will have a Spring musical for the first time in many years because of the interest and passion for this activity displayed by our students.

Academically, I am excited for the new direction our school is headed. Our staff has collaborated in department meetings to look at their current course offerings and brainstormed ideas for new elective offerings. A new course description book will be issued to students in February to begin the scheduling process for the 17-18 school year. We are looking at adding more advanced and college credit courses including 2 college level government courses. Our middle school students have participated and excelled in various academic competitions including a Lego meet, geography bee, and spelling bee. Our High School quiz team won their conference and is heading to the regional meet.

Lastly, I would like to thank the staff, students, and community for welcoming me to the community. People have been very friendly and helpful as I have moved and settled in. I have enjoyed meeting parents and others at school events.

Professional Development Happenings

Beth Manor

This fall, our district has been very busy with our professional development offerings. We are very proud to have been able to offer our Thoughtful Thursday's. An average of 10 teachers voluntarily stayed for the after school sessions to work on curriculum, instructional improvement and assessment literacy. Our teachers were able to work with English Language Arts and Mathematics consultants to better improve our instructional program. We are very proud of the teachers who spent over 8 hours to better improve the instruction here at TCN. As a whole district, our teachers have also participated in Mental Health First Aid and have been certified after 8 hours of training this past fall. This training was sponsored by the Sandy Hook Promise Foundation. We are very grateful to have had this opportunity to bring this training to our staff.

Additionally, we are proud to be able to highlight two of our teachers who were selected to be presenters at local and national conferences. Mr. Tim Lewis, 6-12 STEM teacher, presented at the 3rd annual WRIGHT symposium, held at the Dayton Regional STEM School in Dayton. Mr. Lewis' presentation discussed how he has made the transition from a traditional classroom teacher to STEM in rural, public school. Our STEM program including Full Throttle and our First Lego Leagues is beginning to develop a positive reputation in the Miami Valley and we are very excited to continue to help it grow and serve our students who wish to excel in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math!

Lastly, we are very excited to see one of our newest members of our faculty, Ms. Elly Shellhaas, 11-12 English Language Arts teacher, be selected to present at the National Council of Teachers of English—Assembly on Literature for Adolescents. The national conference “promotes communication and cooperation among all individuals who have an interest in adolescent literature, presents programs and conferences on this subject.” (www.alan-ya.org) Ms. Shellhaas has been an enthusiastic new member to our 6-12 faculty and we look forward to her continuing to demonstrate her passion for literature and reading with our upperclassman.

Ms. Shellhaas

Mr. Lewis

Meet Apollo!

The Lewisburg Police Department was able to launch a K-9 Unit thanks to very generous donations from a number of Lewisburg residents, other community members and Royal Canin. The new K-9, named Apollo, will be certified in many areas including narcotics detection, obedience, tracking and building/area searches. It is nice to know that Tri-County North will now have access to Apollo's services if the need arises where we need to conduct a search.

VIP In Action

On Friday, October 14, the TCN Middle School VIP students went to the Lewisburg Fire Department to donate baked goods and supply posters for the Open House for Sunday, October 16. The students created posters based on this year's fire prevention theme, "Don't Wait...Check the Date. Replace Smoke Alarms Every 10 years." Captain BJ Sewert received the student donations and thanked them for them.

The Middle School VIP students also devoted four hours of their evening to visiting patients in the area nursing homes and spreading holiday cheer. They visited Brookhaven, Greenbriar, and Heartland Nursing homes and distributed Halloween candy regular and sugar free to the residents accompanied with a side dish of smiles and waves. The residents always look forward to this annual visit. The students always look forward to ending the evening at the McDonald's play area.

TCN Leadership Club

TCN Leadership Club is a new organization at Tri-County North created to help make our school a better place and a more enjoyable environment for students, staff, and community members. The TCN Leadership Club was formed with the intent of fulfilling those goals. Consisting of students, teachers, and administrators, the TCN Leadership Club desires to see people become successful leaders and promote the wellbeing of others. We are excited to present an opportunity for TCN students to become involved in leadership.

Our meetings occur every Friday morning at 6:45 in the High School cafeteria except on the first Friday of each month. On the first Friday of each month, we meet in the lecture room and there is a guest speaker who shares leadership stories and qualities that he or she believes designates what defines leadership.

Our projects so far include asking people to give nice compliments to others every day and establishing peer to peer tutoring in the High School Library every Thursday after school from 2:11 to 3:15.

Senior Citizen Holiday Luncheon

On December 2nd, TCN held their annual Senior Citizen Holiday Luncheon, open to any senior citizen in the Tri-County North district. Approximately 55 seniors enjoyed a delicious meal prepared by the TCN cafeteria staff, followed by musical performances by our MS and HS bands and the 1st and 3rd grade music classes. The TCN FFA assisted in decorating, serving and clean up. Door prizes were also given away to the seniors throughout the event. TCN would like to thank all of the area businesses who graciously donated door prizes for the luncheon: Meijer, Sarah's Pizza, Marion's Piazza, Dayton Dragons, Loudy's Office Machines, Subway, Rhonda Horn (Scentsy), LaRosa's Pizzeria, ACE Hardware, Lee's Famous Recipe Chicken, GFS, Cracker Barrel, Today's Headlines Salon & Spa, Walmart, FlexPac and Yankee Clover Mercantile.

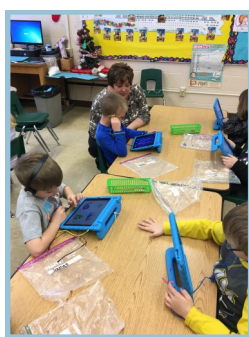

Technology & Curriculum Updates

This fall, TCN was able to take a fairly large step in supporting our students as they move into the blended learning environment that is necessary as we support our 21st century learners. After consultation with our faculty, technology committee and our administrative team, our district was able to purchase 235 Chromebooks for use in our classrooms. This was done using existing funds that were traditionally budgeted for textbooks.

Chromebooks are like a laptop, except they are used solely for online applications. We are very excited to be able to provide our students with additional technology for classroom use. This purchase was made after a yearlong process to move our district to using Google Suites—an online suite of web-based google products that allow our faculty, staff, and students to all use the same web-based email, calendar, and office software. Our students have also been able to take advantage of using google classroom to be able to access online course content and submit work electronically. Our teachers have been able to take advantage of specially designed professional development on using and integrating Google and educational technology for the past year and a half.

This technology upgrade has only been possible because of our continued work in upgrading our facilities. Over the course of this past summer and fall, we have also upgraded our technological infrastructure by installing and adding 20 additional wireless hotspots and upgrading our servers to allow students to have more space for educational applications and to save their work.

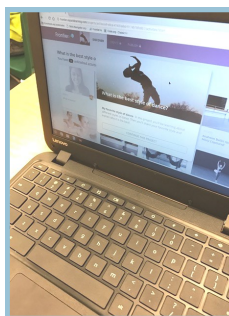

Integrating Technology Into Our Curriculum

We are very excited to share out our progress on a curricular pilot that we have been working on with our 1st grade classrooms. This fall, using our federal grant funds, we have purchased an iPad based program called E-Spark. This program provides our first grade students with a personalized set of educational apps on each iPad that are tied to the student's individual district MAP (Measures of Academic Progress district assessment) scores. This personalized and differentiated instruction is showing tremendous gains for our first grade math students. National average improvements in math from fall to winter is typically 11.4 points, our students made an improvement of 20.2 points! That is an 8.8 gain in this area over the national average! Our teachers are very enthusiastic to expand this pilot and are looking forward to adding the reading component in our second semester. Ms. Barbara Kauffman reports that students consistently look forward to E-Spark time and the personalized instruction in skills are very helpful. The proof is in our improvement! We are very grateful to our entire first grade team as they have fully embraced this new technology and have worked well to ensure that we are incorporating this every day into their instruction.

E-Spark has also just released this fall a new tool to address English Language arts standards. This is an additional tool that can help our older students begin to digest non-fiction reading and analysis. This product is called Frontier. As part of our ongoing attempt to provide our students with a blended approach to learning, we are also piloting Frontier in Mrs. Darcy Fitch's 4th grade and Mrs. Stephanie Caudill's 7th grade English Language Arts Classrooms.

This web-based program allows students to choose from real-world problems, research and synthesize the learning they do to complete an authentic solution. Students are exposed to four major questions that allow them to determine: What do they love, what do they wonder, what will they learn, and what will they make? These questions provide students with the ability to choose the topic of research that most interests them. Each topic then provides a curated set of resources that are guided by investigative questions that allow the students to experience first hand the genuine research process.

Current event articles, podcasts, curated videos, and even online games can be a part of the student's experience as they further develop their reading and writing skills to be able to solve real-world problems. Mrs. Stephanie Caudill says, "My students ask me if they can go work on Frontier. We don't get to do as much as I would like." This type of feedback from our students is invaluable as we are providing them with the necessary skills to go out and be able to tackle the challenges of being a learner and leader in the 21st century. As Frontier is also tied to our MAP scores (Measures of Academic Progress district assessment) it also is working well in the fourth grade classroom, being piloted by Mrs. Darcy Fitch. Frontier is able to meet students at the appropriate reading level and provides them with content that matches. Mrs. Fitch finds that this is very helpful as students in fourth grade are just beginning the process of reading to learn and are at varying levels.

Cargill Cares

For the third year in a row, TCN would like to thank our friends at Cargill Incorporated who made a very generous donation to TCN for our Hot Meals Program for our students. The dollars that were donated will allow students who are not on free or reduced lunches, but who might be struggling at the time, to receive a tray lunch in our cafeteria. This provides the opportunity for all of our students to receive a healthy meal. This would not be possible without the donation from Cargill Incorporated.

Cabbage Patch Food Drive

The Christmas spirit is alive and well at TCN. Our district-wide Cabbage Patch food drive was a huge success! We collected enough items to help over 100 families. Thank you to all the elementary service club and Mrs. Clift, middle school VIP and Ms. Pierson, and high school student council students and Mrs. Ferguson, also Mrs. Finnigan and Sean who participated by donating or helping to sort and bag the food. We would also like to say thank you to the TCN wrestling team for carrying canned goods to the recipient's vehicles.
